

HORNED AND ARMoured BEASTS OF LONG AGO

Triceratops used to be a native of the wilds of Wyoming, U.S.A. His three-horned head was doubtless a powerful weapon to him in attack or defence. He measured about 25 feet, and was a vegetarian.

Stegosaurus belongs to the order of Dinosaurs. He had a double row of great bony plates down the middle of his back, and his tail was protected by eight large and formidable spines.

For any subject not found in its alphabetical place see information